DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-12 and 18-33 were cancelled in this application which was filed on September 18, 2003. However, according to Election/Restrictions requirement for the application 10/047216, claim 17 should also be cancelled since this claim belongs to Species IV, claims 17-21, while the Applicant seemed to elect Species III, claims 13-16, in this application.

Priority

2. This application appears to be a division of Application No. 10/047216, filed January 14, 2002. A later application for a distinct or independent invention, carved out of a pending application and disclosing and claiming only subject matter disclosed in an earlier or parent application is known as a divisional application or "division." The divisional application should set forth only that portion of the earlier disclosure which is germane to the invention as claimed in the divisional application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Takeda et al. (Pub. No. US 2003/0202146A1).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

As shown in Figs. 47 and 48, Takeda et al. discloses a liquid crystal display device comprising:

- a first substrate 311 having thereon a pixel electrode 318 and an active element TFT 316;

- a second substrate 331 having thereon an opposed electrode 334; and

- a liquid crystal layer 329 interposed between said first and second substrates with said electrodes facing each other,

- wherein a first orientation control element 319 (319a) extending in a nonparallel direction relative to an extending direction of an edge of said pixel electrode (vertical edge of the pixel electrode 318 in Fig. 47) and a second orientation control element

336a extending in a parallel direction relative to an extending direction of said edge are provided on at least one of said first and second substrates, and said first orientation control element 319a is larger than in width than said second orientation control element 336a as shown in Fig. 52;

wherein said first orientation control element 319 (319a) is a slit formed in said pixel electrode 318;

wherein said second orientation control element 336a is a protrusion formed on said opposed electrode 334; and wherein a dielectric anisotropy of said liquid crystal molecules of said liquid crystal layer is negative (page 4, paragraph 49).
